

Orthopaedic Sports Specialists experience the benefits of Sectra's digital imaging system

The medical IT company Sectra has deployed its enterprise PACS solution to Orthopaedic Sports Specialists at their main facility in Glastonbury, Connecticut. This is one of the most prominent sports medicine clinics in the Northeast.

Orthopaedic Sports Specialists' new state-of-the-art facility, lead by Dr. Michael Joyce, incorporates an advanced set of patient data and medical record systems with Sectra's robust PACS system. Orthopaedic Sports Specialists has fully integrated digital imaging into the diagnosis and treatment of orthopedic trauma and disease, making them a model for orthopedic practice in the 21st century.

"With Sectra PACS, we have improved our workflow and the overall efficiency of the clinic, resulting in a high level of patient care and a better overall patient experience. Sectra's dedication to Orthopedic PACS, and their strong customer service and support, has resulted in a stable transition from film to a digital based environment," says Dr. Michael Joyce of Orthopaedic Sports Specialists.

"Sectra is committed to the success of our customers and we will continue to support Orthopaedic Sports Specialists in their growing needs in the digital orthopedic environment," says Dr. John Goble, President of Sectra North America.

Sectra's orthopedic PACS offering will be showcased at the upcoming AAOS 2006 Annual Meeting in Chicago Illinois, March 22 – 26th. Visit us in Booth #3450.
