Sectra and peerVue team up to offer quality improvement tools for healthcare organizations in the US

Shelton, CT – November 20, 2007 – IT and medical-technology company Sectra has signed a reseller agreement with peerVue, LLC, a US based company focused on offering software solutions that improve communications and quality in radiology departments with no loss in productivity.

Under this agreement, Sectra may resell peerVue software and service solutions throughout North America. peerVue's flagship offering is a web-based quality improvement solution. It supports healthcare organizations in meeting the accreditation and regulatory requirements and quality improvement initiatives set by healthcare authorities, including ACR-Required Peer Review, JCAHO Critical Test Results Management, Emergency Department Over-Reads and Discrepancy Management as well as Technologist Performance Tracking and Improvement.

"Sectra has had a long-standing goal of providing an expanded suite of clinical solutions for our customers," said Brian Anderson, Vice President of Marketing, Sectra North America. "peerVue's products, offered as a tightly integrated component of a Sectra PACS solution, will equip healthcare organizations with the tools to resolve multiple workflow and regulatory challenges."

"Our partnership with Sectra is a commitment to solving problems and delivering specialized solutions for the ever-changing healthcare environment," said Erik Heath, peerVue Chief Technology Officer. "Through our flexible integration technology, peerVue can be accessed from virtually any Windows® or web-based application. The integration with Sectra delivers Single Sign On and Patient and Study Context Sharing".
